10 FACULTY CHOSEN FOR MERIT AWARDS

Ten faculty members will receive Exceptional Merit Service Awards of $1500 each in the program instituted this year by the faculty bargaining agreement.

Recipients are: Dr. Frances Berdan, professor of anthropology; Dr. Robert Blackey, professor of history; Dr. Louise Burton, associate professor of education; Dr. Julius Kaplan, professor of art; Dr. Ellen Kronowitz, associate professor of education; Dr. Lorelee MacPike, associate professor of English and associate dean for graduate programs; Dr. James Okon, assistant professor of mathematics; Johnnie Ralph, librarian, head, library operations; Dr. Barbara Sirotnik, assistant professor of administration; and Dr. Lynda Warren, professor of psychology.

The awards, part of the Unit 3 (instructional faculty and librarians) agreement, are funded by the Chancellor's Office, said Dr. J.C. Robinson, associate vice president, academic personnel. All full-time faculty unit members who were employed during the previous academic year were eligible for nomination. Thirty-seven names were submitted.

Award criteria included exceptional teaching, including advising; exceptional job performance, including special projects; exceptional professional activity, and exceptional service to the college.

COLLEGE RECEIVES $4000 IN SCHOLARSHIPS

Funds to support four $1000 scholarships were presented to the college from the Western Assn. of Food Chains. The grants are for students majoring in business administration, with an emphasis on a career in the food industry.

Jack H. Brown, president and chief executive officer of Stater Brothers Markets and treasurer of the food association, presented the $4000 check to President Anthony H. Evans. Brown is a charter member of the Board of Councillors, a community-based advisory group for the School of Business and Public Administration.

The association, comprised of the leading food chains in 17 western states, also gave the college $4000 for scholarships last year.

"This is a magnificent program and we feel honored that the association has contributed this amount to the school," said Dr. Hal Hoverland, school dean. A faculty committee, chaired by Grace Goodrich, has been appointed to publicize the program and select the recipients.

Applicants for the scholarships will be sought from recent high school graduates, community college transfers and store employees.

SCHOOL BUSINESS PROGRAM ENDORSED

The Certificate of School Business Management has received endorsement by the California Assn. of School Business Officials. The program, offered by the School of Education, is the only one in the state currently endorsed by the Association, said Dr. Tom Woods (Education). A program must be endorsed by the Association for one year before it attains certification, which is expected next year, he said.

The certificate program, which consists of six courses in the Schools of Education and Business and Public Administration, is designed to provide career growth opportunities for future school district business managers.

CSU FRESHMAN APPLICATIONS UP

Freshman applications for admission to the CSU next fall are up 4 percent over last year, Chancellor W. Ann Reynolds announced. CSU campuses have received 59,677 applications from freshmen, up 2,327 from last year. All campuses are still accepting applications, although some majors are closed at some campuses. More than 121,000 applications at all class levels have been received and almost 200,000 are expected by the close of the application period late this summer, the chancellor said.

SEVEN STUDENTS SELECTED FOR INTERNATIONAL PROGRAM

Seven students from this campus will participate in the CSU International Program for the 1984-85 academic year. The students and the country they will visit are: Mary Bruton, Spain; Jeffrey Espinoza, France; Douglas Johnson, Germany; Diane Lang, Germany; Nguyet Le, Taiwan; Cynthia Sagmeister, England; Sandra Thompson, Canada.

Twenty-eight students from the college applied for the program. Systemwide, more than 700 students applied for the 450 available positions, said Dr. Mireille Rydell (French), campus coordinator of the program.

DANCE COMPANY PERFORMS MAY 11

Lines, shapes and designs will be investigated through movement by the Free Flight Dance Company Friday, May 11 in the Creative Arts Recital Hall. The show, part of the Family Performance Series, begins at 7:15 p.m.

The six-member group will dance as the audience provides accompaniment by rhythmic clapping. Viewers will be lead through an imaginary experience to stimulate their own mental images, showing how each person can see things his own way. A question and answer period will follow the performance. Tickets, available at the door, are $3 adult and $1.50 for children age 14 and under.

The California State College, San Bernardino BULLETIN is published Fridays by the Public Affairs Office, AD 117, extension 7558. Items for publication should be received in writing by noon Tuesday.

NOVELIST TO SPEAK MONDAY

Novelist Paul Gillette, author of "Play Misty for Me" and "The Chinese Godfather," will speak Monday in the Recital Hall. The free lecture, sponsored by the forthcoming department of communication, begins at 6 p.m. Gillette's topic is "The Professional Writer."

Gillette, who has an earned doctorate in psychology, is a journalist with articles and commentaries in many major American magazines and newspapers. He wrote and hosted the program "Camera Three" on CBS and produced and hosted two PBS programs.

"Play Misty for Me" was produced as a movie starring Clint Eastwood.

With 70 books and more than 1000 magazine pieces in print, he continues to write and teaches writing at USC. His visit to campus has been arranged by Dr. Fred Jandt (Communication),

Photographs by senior art major Wilhelmina Kersey-van Stigt Thans will be on display in Gallery 2 of the Visual Arts Building through Wednesday. The show, "Groot en Klein" (Big and Little), consists of scenes from her farm, she said.

TIME MANAGEMENT WORKSHOPS TO BE HELD ON WEDNESDAY

The Counseling and Testing Center will conduct time management workshops at 1 and 7 p.m., Wednesday in PS 227. The two-hour sessions will be given by Steven Coffey and Veda Hunn, interns in the counseling psychology master's program. Topics such as time management habits and goal setting will be discussed.

EVENING OFFICE HOLDS OPEN HOUSE

The Evening Office will host open houses from 5:30 to 8 p.m., Monday and Tuesday to make students, faculty and staff more aware of services provided. Refreshments will be served. The open houses are sponsored by the Associated Students.

The office's regular hours are 5:45 to 8:30 p.m., Monday through Thursday. Services include transcript requests, graduation checks, parking decals and name and address changes. The office is located on the southeast corner of the Library, PL 107.

ARTICLES SOUGHT FOR NEWSLETTER

Staff and faculty members are invited to submit articles, writing tips or monographs to be considered for publication in the spring and fall issues of "Crosscut: Writing Across the Disciplines." The English Department newsletter, now in its third year, is edited by Dr. Helene Koon (English). The deadline for the spring issue is May 15. Items should be sent to the English Department Office, PL 248.

Associate editors are students Rod Hendry, Michele Butler, Louise Connal, Judith Ashton, Susan Critchfield and Ellen Elfstrom.

Subscriptions to the publication may be secured from Dr. Koon, Ext. 7691.

OPEN HOUSE DRAWS SIZABLE CROWD

Despite generally overcast skies and a brisk afternoon breeze, the open house last Saturday attracted several thousand spectators and participants.

Attendance was estimated at 5400 persons on the basis of the 2192 cars (with an average occupancy of 2.5 persons) which entered the campus during the period of the open house and ME Festival Saturday. Metering devices made the actual count.

Nearly 1000 school children from the service area participated in the Robot Olympics, which were conducted Friday and Saturday, according to Frank Slaton. Mission Junior High School from Riverside walked away with top honors in the olympics, placing first in the robot construction competition and capturing several other events. Vendor exhibits in the gymnasium, which included several new computers and robots, were well received, he said. David Neighbours directed the Robot Olympics and Herb Nickles was responsible for the computer workshops.

Two national computer publications, the weekly Info World and the monthly Popular Computing, had writers and photographers at the ME Festival. Slaton also will be interviewed shortly by a Japanese magazine. He has had a telephone interview with a Purdue University committee which plans to clone Cal State's ME Festival.

The landing and display of the Huey helicopter and rappeling demonstrations by ROTC cadets were popular open house events. By actual count, 319 people rode a camel and 336 saw the exhibit of furniture, ceramics and paintings in the Art Gallery.

Judges proclaimed the following winners in the pie contest: tastiest, Mary Stracke (Academic Programs); most original, Maryann Long; creamiest and "yummiest," Susan Garcia (Physical Education and Recreation). Ribbon winners in the chili competition were: best, Jose Benavides (student); zestiest, Lois Stevens and Lori Rowe (students); tastiest, Greg Logan and Rosie Green (students); most original, Joe Long (Physical Education and Recreation).

SEARCH COMMITTEES BEGIN SCREENINGS

Search committees for two major positions, executive dean for college relations and associate vice president for academic resources, will begin screening approximately 70 applicants for each position next week.

Formation of the two committees was completed this week. Some members were elected by Faculty Senate constituent units and others were appointed.

Dr. Peter Wilson, dean of students, heads the executive dean search committee which includes: Dr. Irving Buchen, Humanities and Library; Ronald Hennigar, Business and Public Administration and Student Services; Dr. Kimball Hughes, Natural Sciences; Dr. David Lutz, Social and Behavioral Sciences; and Dr. Lee Porter, Education; faculty representatives; Shirley Ealy, Counseling and Testing, staff representative; Gloria Macias Harrison, Advisory Board; Robin Valles, Alumni Assn.; Brad Johnson, student representative; and Dr. Ward McAfee, administrative representative.

The associate vice president search committee, chaired by Vice President Gerald Scherba, consists of: Dr. Jim Charkins, Social and Behavioral Sciences; Dr. K. Michael Clark, Administration; Dr. Richard Fehn, Natural Sciences; Arthur Nelson, Humanities and Library; and Dr. Ronald Pendleton, Education; plus Dr. Ernest Garcia, Dr. Fook Liu and Donna Ziebarth.

ENSEMBLE WILL PERFORM MAY 13

An evening of contemporary classical music will be presented by the Almont Ensemble at 8:15 p.m., Sunday, May 13 in the Recital Hall. The five-member group, which performs throughout Southern California, will present "Scherzo" by Dr. Larry McFatter (Music). The piece, a first-place winner in the 1981 composer's competition of New York for Young Ensembles, was premiered in May, 1982 at Carnegie Recital Hall.

The ensemble will also play Maurice Ravel's "Trio for Violin, Cello and Piano," Johann Hummel's "Quartet for Clarinet, Violin, Viola and Cello" and Frank Stemper's "Chameleon," which was written especially for them.

Tickets, at the door, are $5 general and $2.50 student and senior citizen. This concert is the final event in the 1983-84 Music at Cal State series. The Dr. Loren Filbeck-Susan Comstock recital scheduled for May 23 has been cancelled.

LIBRARY TO BEGIN NEW CIRCULATION SYSTEM

The Pfau Library is preparing to implement a new automated circulation system. An integral part of the CSU Trustees' Library Development Program, the system was financed by the CSU and will soon be in operation at all campuses.

Step one will be for faculty to fill out a library registration form and obtain an optical scan bar-coded label at the Circulation Desk. It will be affixed to the back of the individual's photo identification card. Faculty registration will be conducted during May and June. Faculty without an ID card may obtain one from Audio-Visual, PL 87 during the week of June 18-22.

Schedules for registering staff and students will be announced in the future. Throughout the summer, the library will operate with both the current and the automated check-out systems. Beginning this fall, a photo identification card with the new zebra label will be required before books can be checked out.

MECHA PRESENTS EL TEATRO JUNE 2

Tickets are now on sale for the bilingual production of "La Loteria de Pasiones" Saturday, June 2 in the Recital Hall. The story, performed by El Teatro de la Esperanza, begins at 7:30 p.m.

The drama is a Cinco de Mayo event brought to campus by MEChA. The play is the newest production of the Santa Barbara-based acting company. Tickets, $5 each, can be obtained from the EOP Office, Ext. 7395, or SAIL, Ext. 7673. Through colorful pageantry, the story explores Hispanic views of luck, life, destiny and death.

NEW REGISTRATION PROCESS EXPLAINED

An explanation of future student registration procedures will be given at 1:30 p.m., today in PS 10 by the Early Registration Task Force, said JoAnn Von Wald, chair. Goals of the group are to implement new procedures, including computer-assisted registration, in the fall of 1985. Registration by telephone, for students living some distance from campus, also is being explored. This system also may be applied to other campus activities including admissions, financial aid, cultural and athletic events and speakers bureau, Mrs. Von Wald said.

PROFESSIONAL ACTIVITIES

Dr. Irving Buchen (Humanities) was elected president of the California Council of Fine Arts Deans April 5 in Sacramento. He will plan the council's fall program at UCLA.

Dr. Margaret Cooney (Education) participated in a panel discussion on "Ways to Go-- Options for the Disabled Postsecondary Student" at the High Tech-High Touch Conference at Cal Poly, Pomona April 6.

Drs. Robert Cramer and Stuart Ellins (Psychology) presented a paper, "Taste Potentiation and the Modification of Appetitive Behavior," at the Rocky Mountain Psychological Assn. convention in Las Vegas April 25-28. Dr. Cramer and graduate student Robin Ellins also gave a paper on "Predicting Major League Baseball Team Performance."

Dr. David Lutz (Psychology) and graduate student Judith Davis presented a paper, "Personality Correlates of Specific Attitudes Towards Death and Dying" at the Rocky Mountain Psychological Assn. convention in Las Vegas April 25-28.

Lance Masters (Marketing and Management Science) was appointed a director of the Western Marketing Educator's Assn. at its annual conference in Palm Springs April 26-28.

Dr. James Rogers (Management) gave a presentation on "The Use and Misuse of Color in Data Displays" at a joint meeting of the Human Factors Society and the Society for Information Display, Los Angeles chapters, in El Segundo April 25.

Dr. Mireille Rydell (Foreign Languages and Literatures) has been appointed to a new Foreign Languages Advisory Committee at San Bernardino Valley College.

COMMUNITY SERVICE

Dr. Robert Blackey (History) spoke on "The French Revolution in the Light of Studies on Revolution" to a history class at San Geronimo High School April 30.

Drs. Phil Kraushar, John Sarli, Paul Vicknair, with Jolene Kraushar (Mathematics) were judges in the Mathcounts competition, a statewide math tournament for seventh and eighth graders sponsored by the California Society of Professional Engineers at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory in Pasadena April 7.

Dr. Renate Nummela (Education) discussed "Stress and Substance Abuse" at the Inland Empire Chapter of Problems of Alcoholism in Labor and Management April 19.

Lyn Tontz (Personnel) has been named to a one-year term as president of the Lake Elsinore Valley Soccer Club.

Six faculty and staff members participated in the Youth Educational Motivational Program sponsored by the Mexican-American Personnel Management Assn. at Chemawa Junior High School in Riverside April 24. Participating were Olga Carranza (SAIL), Dr. Henry Dalton (Education), Quentin Moses (Public Safety), Jean Peacock (SAIL), Jane Russell (Counseling and Testing Center), and Matthew Smith (Upward Bound).

CONGRATULATIONS

Congratulations are extended by the college community to Michele and Phil Havins (Mail Services) on the birth of their first child, Philip Wesley Havins, May 1 at St. Bernardine Hospital. The baby weighed 7 pounds 12 ounces.
